New Orchard Heater Law Is Adopted By Supervisors

ENFORCEMENT OF MEASURE PLANNED TO PREVENT SMOKE

Growers Asked to Adjust Heaters to Comply With New Law

Taking action that is designed to eliminate the nuisance of "smudge", the county board of supervisors yesterday adopted a new ordinance to regulate orchard heating. Rigid enforcement of the new law is promised and C. E. Grier, Upland, chairman of the board said that the smoke nuisance will be abated almost entirely upon compliance with the ordinance.

A former ordinance was repealed. The new law contains most of the features of the former law and in addition prohibits the burning of any material or fuel except in a heater operated to comply with provisions of the new law.

The regulations point out it is unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to use, operate or permit to be used any orchard heater which produces unconsumed solid carbonaceous matter at a rate in excess of one gram per hour.

Growers may adjust most all types of heaters to comply with the law except obsolete equipment. Under the new measure burning of tires and use of "garbage can" type of heaters is banned. Violation of the law is a misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine of not more than $500 or six months in jail or both. Each day the heaters are fired in violation of the ordinance will be deemed a separate offense.

Cooperation of the growers in eliminating the smoke smudge is asked by the board. The measure was enacted early in order to allow growers time to fix heaters to comply with the law.

Sargent Court Is Opened With Three Apartments Rented

The four-apartment court at 122 Euclid avenue recently completed by J. Emery Sargent is popular, three of the apartments having already been rented.

Each apartment includes three rooms and a bath. Robert F. Stump occupies one apartment, with Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Deertz in another. Kenneth Polzin, Upland junior high school teacher, has rented one apartment for the school year.

The court was built under the direction of W. H. Spicer, with the Upland Lumber & Milling Co. supplying the building materials. Hugh Lomphear was the painting contractor and Frank Victoria, the electrician; Lutz & Bane, plumbers, and Frank Gingerich, the plasterer.

Mr. Sargent razed a planing mill, one of the oldest structures in the city, to make room for the court.

Twenty-Second St. Paving Completed

Other streets in the citrus and residential area will be improved as part of a WPA project.

Particular Robber Sorts Out Bills As Leaves $60 Behind

This robber must be particular. In the home of Father Nunez, 522 East State street, Ontario, last night he had $67 in bills in his hand. But he carefully sorted out the collection and took only $7.

Ontario police investigated the robbery call. Two girls had been given a key to the house in order to use the telephone, according to Father Nunez. Just as they entered a man jumped from the study window, leaving the bills in a cluttered mess on a desk. Father Nunez reported he had $67 in his study and $60 was left by the robber.

When Mr. Kelman applied for a business license, $20 of the fine was suspended.

NEWSPAPER MEN TO MEET IN THIS CITY

Publishers of Two Counties Coming Here Sept. 25—Grier Speaks

Newspaper men in San Bernardino and Riverside counties will meet in Upland on Sept. 25 for a program to be planned by The Upland News.

Once a month newspaper representatives of the two counties unite and at a meeting in Fontana Saturday night decision was reached to meet in Upland for the September meeting.

C. E. Grier of Upland, chairman of the county board of supervisors, was the guest speaker at the Fontana meeting. He pointed to the rapidly increasing cost of the old age pensions and suggested the possibility of a constitutional amendment to relieve the local taxpayers of such a heavy burden in meeting approximately one-third of the total cost.

The plan of giving old age pensions is here to stay, he said, and it is his suggestion that money for the pensions should come from other than a tax on real property. Unless some change is made in the method of raising the money, he predicted the pension bill a few years hence would be unbearably large.

At present the federal government pays $15 a month to each pensioner with the county and state governments sharingly equally the remainder. The proposed constitutional amendment would relieve local property owners of paying as much as at present.

John Long, general manager of the California Newspapers Publishers association, discussed various newspaper problems. Cornelius Debakcsy, secretary of the San Bernardino County chamber of commerce and publisher of The Fontana Herald, proposed a resolution calling for the placing of more state highway patrolmen in this county. The resolution was adopted.

RULES TO BE MADE IN PENSION CASES

County Supervisors Meeting Tomorrow To Act On New State Law

Special rules and regulations to be followed in the county in the administration of the new welfare laws will be made at a special meeting of the county board of supervisors tomorrow.

Due to the new regulations and provisions of the liberalized old age pension act, several new methods will be inaugurated by the county. The new law is effective Sept. 1.

Cost of the old age pensions is shared by the federal government paying $15 of the amount going to each person and the county and the state each paying about $10. Increase in the number of pensioners is anticipated due to a provision of the new law which makes it unnecessary for the recipients to give the county a lien on their property and which also allows them to own property with an assessed valuation of $3,000 and have a personal income up to $15 a month.

The county's share of relief costs this year will be approximately $1,000,000. Approximately $50,000 will be paid in salaries to employes of the county welfare department who have been employed to aid in handling the increased relief work.

Data Available on Liberalized Pension

Information about the liberalized old age pension law which goes into effect tomorrow, may be obtained from 10 to 12 o'clock Friday mornings at the Upland chamber of commerce office.

Representative of the county welfare department will be at the office during that time to give information about the new act. Formal application for the pension, however, must be made at the Ontario office of the department, 115 South Euclid avenue, Ontario.

P. E. Strike Delayed To Allow Mediation

Strike of Pacific Electric Co. employes has been delayed indefinitely, according to announcement of officials of the employes' union. The walk-out had been scheduled for 2 a.m. tomorrow.

The national mediation board is expected to study the employee-employer situation and if satisfactory arrangements can be made, the strike may be cancelled.

These monthly book reviews sponsored by the library are free to the public and are a great aid to busy readers and to patrons in their selection of books.

ALOIS PODRASNIK, 92 YEAR OLD WAR VETERAN, CALLED

Prominent Uplander Dies at Home Here After Colorful Life

Alois Podrasnik, widely known lovable character, who had lived for nearly 93 years, passed away when death visited his citrus ranch home here Sunday night.

Deeply interested in the community and its many activities, Mr. Podrasnik had not been ill recently until Sunday afternoon. Advancing age restricted his activity and he guardedly followed a routine of eating, exercising and sleeping. Very often he went for automobile rides and he was seen frequently in the business district happily waving a greeting to acquaintances.

Resting in his home, Villa Alois, on upper Mountain avenue, Mr. Podrasnik became ill late Sunday. From them on his strength ebbed and within a short time the widely known Civil war veteran passed on, his death occurring shortly before midnight.

Eight years ago Mr. Podrasnik conceived the idea of forming a "Last Man's Club." Twelve Civil war veterans of Upland, Ontario and Pomona comprised the group. It was understood the members should meet annually and pay tribute to the memory of any members having passed on during the previous 12 months.

Late last May Mr. Podrasnik and David Ballinger, Pomona, met as the only two surviving members of the club. Today only Mr. Ballinger remains to carry on the annual custom.

For many years Mr. Podrasnik was active in the Grand Army of the Republic in this district, being commander of Ontario post. At one time there were 40 members. Now there are none—Mr. Podrasnik being the last one to go.

Philanthropic activities took much of Mr. Podrasnik's interest. Chaffey high school and junior college have shared in his gifts and he was generous in support of many causes and enterprises.

An annual event for many in the community was his birthday anniversary party. Tentative plans had already been made for the next such event on October 7. On that day he would have been 93 years of age.

Mr. Podrasnik came to Upland 32 years ago. A native of Austria, he came to America as a youth. Unable to speak English, he at an early date displayed his ability to make the most of his opportunities. Soon he learned the language and before many years he was successful in business.

He came to Upland to raise citrus fruits and enjoy a semi-retired old age. Frequently he traveled and on several occasions he crossed the Atlantic to visit relatives in Germany and Austria.

Mr. Podrasnik is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Warren H. Wass of Bakersfield, and a son, Joseph N. Podrasnik of Sanbornville, New Hampshire, and a sister-in-law, Miss Theresa Scheiss of Upland. Miss Scheiss had been constantly in the care of the ageing Uplander. In recent years his son had spent a portion of each year in Upland

$250 AND WATCHES TAKEN AT HOSPITAL

Two Physicians Are Victims of Thief as Operation Performed

Investigation is being conducted today into circumstances in the theft of $250 in cash and two gold watches from the doctors' locker room in San Antonio Community hospital surgery.

While Dr. Calvert L. Emmons and Dr. Jerome H. Titus were engaged in performing an operation, someone rifled the physicians' coats and obtained the cash and valuables. All clews are being studied but as yet there are no reports from the Upland police and hospital officials.

The theft occurred between 9:15 and 10:30 a.m. yesterday. The doctors had changed into surgical gowns and when they returned to the lockers after performing an operation the loss was discovered.

Program For Park Urged

Parks are a great asset to a community, in the opinion of F. W. Palmer, resident of Upland for many years, who today expressed the belief that it would be unwise for the city to sell the 47-acre park site east of Campus avenue.

"That is, it seems unwise to sell that property unless there is really a good reason for it," he continued. "One of the biggest mistakes this city has made in the past is not in providing more parks."

Mr. Palmer expressed the belief that within 15 years or so the park site would be surrounded by many residences.

"As I understand it, the city can retain that property without having to pay any taxes," the Uplander continued. "Now that the city has the property I believe it is a fine thing for it to keep the land for future use as a park."

A proposal to sell the park property was discussed at the city council meeting August 19. As far as is known no definite steps have been taken by the city to dispose of the property. The council indicated, however, that it might be open to consider a good proposition to sell the tract.

"Take San Diego, for example," Mr. Palmer continued in his discussion of the park situation. "It has parks right near the business district. Some are big parks and some are small ones. And at Orange there is the small circular park right in the center of town. Pomona also has lots of parks."

AQUEDUCT WATER STUDY SUGGESTED

Austin Burt Proposes Cities In This Area Form One Group for Survey

In order to determine the feasibility and advisability of obtaining water from the Metropolitan Water District aqueduct for domestic use, Austin Burt, Ontario city service manager, today suggested that a committee be formed representing Upland, Ontario and Pomona.

During October it is likely a delegation from Ontario will make a tour over the route of the aqueduct with district officials. Following that tour consideration may be given to the advisability of obtaining Colorado river water. Most cities in the citrus area are confronted with the question of more water.

"Rather than for each city to make an investigation it would be more logical for interested cities to join in the survey," Mr. Burt suggested.

Roy French Suffers Fracture in Crash

He suffered a fractured ankle and cuts about the head and body when his machine got out of control. His condition is reported as not being serious. He is at the San Antonio Community hospital.

$4.39 TOTAL TAX RATE FOR UPLAND AS SUM BOOSTED

27 Cent Increase Over Year Ago As All Charges Are Listed

Total tax rate to be paid by Uplanders is $4.39 on each $100 of assessed valuation, this being an increase of 27 cents over the rate of last year.

The $4.39 rate includes the city, county and school taxes. The county board of supervisors yesterday fixed the rates for all the school districts to complete the tax figures for the new year.

Total tax rates in the outlying school districts follow: Alta Loma, $2.95; Central Cucamonga, $2.59; Cucamonga, $2.91, and Etiwanda, $3.

The total Upland rate is made up of the following rates and a comparison is made with the rate of last year:

	37-38	36-37
Upland City	$1.15	$1.15
County	1.50	1.24
Elementary school	.79	.80
Chaffey H. S.	.65	.58
Chaffey J. C.	.30	.35
	$4.39	$4.12

Due to increase charges for relief and old age pension costs and for other increases, the county rate was increased 26 cents. The combined Chaffey high school and junior college budget shows an increase of two cents over last year. This is due to money being raised to carry on a building program, for salary adjustments and a general rise in the cost of materials and supplies.

The $1.50 county rate applies to all territory inside incorporated areas. The same rate also applies to unincorporated areas with an addition of 3 cents to cover the cost of operating the county library. The rates in the outlying communities are therefore made up of the $1.53 county and library rate plus the elementary, high school and junior college rate.

The Central district in Cucamonga has the lowest rate of any school district in the territory served by Chaffey. The rate there is $2.59.

The total rate for Ontario, including the city, county and school district, is $4.38, one cent lower than the Upland rate.

Alois Podrasnik Paid Tribute by Rotarians —Shepperson in Talk

The memory of Alois Podrasnik, whose long and useful life came to an end Sunday night, was honored today by the Upland Rotary club, of which organization he was an honorary member, at their regular meeting time. Not only did Mr. Podrasnik enjoy the fellowship of his fellow Rotarians, but he was a genrous contributor at the meetngs.

At today's meetng Presdent Neil Hickcox called upon John W. Shepperson, personal friend of the deceased, to make some remarks. In doing so Mr. Shepperson paid high tribute to Mr. Podransik, not only as a keen business man, but also as a good soldier and an all around good citizen. He noted the obstacles a foreign born resident must overcome in order to attain success in mastering a new language and familiarizing himself with business and other conditions and also remarked that it is wonderful that there is such a country in the world as the United States where such wonderful opportunities are available.

Mr. Shepperson further remarked that the life of Alois Podrasnik should be an inspiration to the young people of this and other lands and stressed the admiration and esteem in which he was held by his wide circle of friends and acquaintances.

At the conclusion of Mr. Shepperson's talk the club members stood a short time in silent tribute to their departed friend, whose kindly and familiar figure will be greatly missed in the community in which he has lived and served for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Hover Wingerd have moved to Upland from South Pasadena and are residing at 1048 East Ninth street.

Vacation Soon Over—School Days Again

Vacation days—for the older members of the family as well as for those of school age—will soon be over. Schools throughout the district will soon be in progress again. Still—in one way—when vacation ends for the youngsters and school opens—then vacation begins for mother.

With the care free days of summer gone, the youth of school age will be trooping to their classes to wrestle with the many problems that go toward their education. But it's not all work at school—and most of the young people will be glad to get back to work again. For along with the work there is a lot of fun. For instance, there is the enthusiastic school spirit that is stirred up by athletic contests, there are social functoins, entertainments, etc. And to get a well rounded education the student must take an interest in all these and take part in as many as possible. The contacts and friendships made during the years of school and college are almost—if not quite—as valuable as the lessons learned from books and professors.

The great schoolward migration is an old story, but a new story is that parents have some nuggets of wisdom unavailable a few years ago. They realize that the terror of every school kid's heart—the report card—isn't the sole test of his brains, ability and merit.

To the youngsters we say: "Study well. Strive to do as best you can. Then you may find yourself doing better than anyone."

To the parents we say: "Don't be indifferent to your boy's or girl's day by day school work. Don't ignore the help they may seek—and then administer stiff rebukes on report card day. More important questions than whether Alice and John get A's in history or English are whether they possess the qualities that make for a happier adulthood.

How do they get along with their classmates? Are they too shy? Or too selfishly domineering? Do they make a greater hit with their teachers than with their associates? Observe how they get along with their friends. Your children's playfellows can give you a shrewder analysis of your children's character than most teachers—or the report card—ever will.

There are many more benefits to be derived in school these days than when we adults of today were going to public school. In addition to "the three R's"—reading, 'riting and 'rithmetic—so strongly stressed in other days the pupils are taught many other things that go to make a well rounded life. There is much stress put on physical and moral fitness and how to attain it. Though an excellent report card is greatly to be desired, it has been demonstrated in many instances that the student with the highest marks does not always make the greatest success in the years after graduation—by which we do not mean that an outstanding scholastic record is not to be greatly desired.

The schools in this district are outstanding—and there are few of the young people who are not possessed of suffiecient mentality to make a creditable record if they apply themselves. It is possible to obtain a well rounded education in the public schools of today—and if the young people do not take enough interest in their studies and other school activities to get it the fault lies with themselves—in the lack of effort they put forth and also because of the lack of cooperation and association with their fellow students and their instructors.

Altdough the New Jersey department of agriculture a couple weeks ago found that pigs' tails show a trend to curl to the left, we haven't yet noticed that Congress has appointed a committee to investigate that very important matter. The country is certainly entitled to have this thing gone into thoroughly—and a report made at the earliest possible moment.

War is a game in which both sides lose, it is said. The United States can testify to the fact that the winner of the World war was a big loser—but just how much Uncle Sam lost will never be known. Now the big question is: Will he be smart enough to stay out of other wars—except, of course, a war of aggression.

Neil-Hilty Wedding Occurs Saturday In Wee Kirk

Selecting the Wee Kirk o' the Heather in Forest Lawn, Glendale, as the picturesque setting for their wedding, Miss Ruth Barbara Hilty, daughter of Walter Hilty of 690 Second avenue, and H. Allen Neil, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dow Neil of Santa Barbara, were united in marriage at 8:30 Saturday morning in the presence of more than 50 relatives and intimate friends.

Rich autumn shades provided the color note for the occasion. The chapel at this time is adorned with panels of growing plants, colorful begonias and coleus, and harmonizing colors predominated in the attire of the wedding party.

A 15 minute organ recital by the church organist preceded the ceremony, the final number, according to custom, being "Annie Laurie."

The "Bridal Chorus" from Wagner's "Lohengrin" heralded the entrance of the bridal party and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" was played as the recessional.

Escorted by her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride, an attractive brunette, was lovely in a chestnut brown sports ensemble, the long jacket being made in princess style. Her hat, veil and other accessories were in harmonizing brown and she carried an exquisite colonial bouquet of Talisman roses and zinnias in autumn shades, encased in richly colored autumn leaves.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. C. Ernest Olson of Upland, who wore a sports costume in navy blue with blue accessories and carried a colonial bouquet of pink and lavender sweet peas centered with a pink rose and blue cornflower.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Lawrence Paige Leslie of Santa Barbara and Earl Williams of Los Angeles was usher.

The single ring marriage service was read by the Rev. Hardy A. Ingham, pastor of the Santa Barbara Avenue Methodist church in Los Angeles.

While the organist played a group of several selections after the ceremony an informal reception was held in the court of the chapel. Mr. and Mrs. Neil left immediately afterward for a brief trip to LaJolla before going to their home in Santa Barbara.

For the occasion Mrs. Hilty wore a gown of black sheer with white accessories and a corsage of white sweet peas and larkspur. Mrs. Neil, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in an ensemble in turquoise blue and she wore a corsage of Talisman roses.

The bride, who has lived in Upland for a number of years, graduated from both Chaffey high school and junior college and from Santa Barbara State Teachers college, where she became a member of Delta Zeta Delta sorority and Delta Phi Upsilon. During the past year she taught in the kindergarten of the Santa Barbara schools and will fill the same position this school year.

Mr. Neil attended the Santa Barbara schools and graduated from the Santa Barbara State Teachers college. This year he will take post graduate work in the college and do part time teaching. He is a member of Sigma Alpha Kappa fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil will make their home at 1774 B. Prospect avenue, Santa Barbara.

Miss Runge Completes Round Trip Flight To Iowa Home

Returning on the giant TWA Skysleeper, which was forced to circle for an hour above the fog-shrowded airport before breaking through the heavy mist for a rough landing, Miss Hulda Runge completed a round trip airplane flight to her former home in Iowa, arriving in Burbank at 8:10 Sunday morning. She had boarded the plane at Minneapolis, Minn., at 3:30 Saturday afternoon and spent several hours in Kansas City.

Miss Runge, who is secretary in the office of Attorney Edw. E. Gray, left Upland two weeks ago and flew to Minneapolis, where she was met by relatives and taken by motor to Osage, Iowa, where she visited with her relatives and many friends.

The two long flights greatly increased Miss Runge's already enthusiastic interest in air travel and she enjoyed a continuous thrill during the trip.

On the return trip the co-pilot, noting her interest in the mechanics of the flight, gave her much interesting information, showing how complete charts are made in advance of a flight, when weather conditions are studied and calculations are made as to the amount of gas that will be used between two given points, even to the fraction of a gallon. He also explained the mathematical exactness and the perfect timing of machinery with the speed of the plane when guiding a pilot with light beams.

Miss Runge made a particular point of being awake at daybreak Sunday morning in order to look down upon the desert as it came to life with the first rays of morning light, and she was not disappointed as she saw the vast stretches of shifting sands and rugged hills rolling endlessly beneath her, a kaleidoscopic display of coloring. At first a soft purple haze shrowded the desert, softening its harshness and emphasizing its eternal stillness. As the sun neared the horizon the colorings became more defined, the purple was suffused with gold, then rose contrasted with blue shadows; the mountains stood out in sharp outline, the sands turned white beneath the full light of the sun and it was daytime on the desert.

The plane passed low over the San Bernardino and Sierra Madre mountains and Miss Runge looked upon Old Baldy, Mt. Wilson and the other familiar peaks that seemed to float like islands in a sea of billowing fog that blotted out all else save the mountain tops.

It was because of the dense fog that the pilot was instructed to idle his ship above the fog for an hour before landing.

Miss Runge found the early evening hours and early morning the most advantageous times to enjoy the scenery of the countryside from the vantage point of an airplane thousands of feet in the air.

Wayne Kelley Claims Bride in Wedding In Claremont

The Mabel Shaw Bridges Hall of Music on the Pomona college campus in Claremont provided the impressive setting for one of the most charming weddings of the summer, when at 8:30 Saturday evening Miss Virginia Eleanor Madison of Claremont became the bride of Wayne Elwood Kelley of Upland.

The bride is the daughter of the late Ray Anthony Madison and Mrs. Madison of 2947 North San Antonio avenue, Claremont, and Mr. Kelley's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Kelley of 1802 North Mountain avenue, Upland.

The simple decorations arranged for the occasion were a large basket of beautiful white lilies and a pair of tall candelabra bearing white cathedral candles.

Music was provided by Loren Adair, organist, of Pomona. Preceding the ceremony he played several selections, including Schubert's "Serenade," "Ave Maria" and "Liberstraum". The "Bridal Chorus" from Wagner's "Lohengrin" was played as the processional and the recessional number was Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

The bride was accompanied by her uncle, Kuno Doerr of South Pasadena, who gave her in marriage. She was lovely in a gown of white slipper satin fashioned with slight train and short full sleeves and she wore a long veil gathered into a Juliette cap of pearls. Her shower bouquet was made of gardenias and lilies-of-the-valley.

A reception for the guests was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Madison receiving in a gown of violet chiffon with matching jacket. Mrs. Kelley, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gown of wine colored net embroidered in blue.

An attractive floral decoration was arranged for the home and a wedding collation was served, with the bride cutting the wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelley left at once for a motor trip up the coast, Mrs. Kelley wearing a wine colored traveling suit trimmed in brown fur and with brown accessories.

The bride attended the Claremont public schools and the University of California at Los Angeles.

Mr. Kelley graduated from Chaffey high school and junior college and from Pomona college. He later did graduate work at the University of California at Berkeley and at Claremont colleges. ALOIS PODRASNIK ANSWERS SUMMONS in order to be with his father.

No plans have been made for the funeral services. Mrs. Wass is expected to arrive here this evening to make arrangements. The Stone funeral home is in charge.

Mr. Podrasnik's love for his adopted country was shown when he enlisted on the Union side in the Civil war. His first enlistment was as a corporal in Co. A, 142d Illinois Volunteer Infantry. At the expiration of this service he again enlisted as a first lieutenant in Co. K, 156th Volunteer Infantry, being honorably discharged Sept. 4, 1865, and was granted his citizenship papers as a result of his war service, although he was not yet of age.

When he was 12 years old, Mr. Podrasnik and a brother came to this country. When the Civil war came the father of the boys sent money to pay their return passage to Austria. However, Alois desired to stay in the United States and he gave his share of the money to the brother, who returned to his native land. At the time of his death he was the only surviving commissioned officer of the Union army in Southern California.

Mr. Podrasnik was prominent in business circles during his long residence in Chicago. He built up the largest wall paper manufacturng business in the middle west and bought and sold real estate. In his younger days he was a city mail carrier in that city and helped organize the carrier service there.

Upon coming to Upland in 1906 it was not his intention to stay here, but he was so impressed with the climate and the beauties of this community that he ordered his Chicago property sold and remained to spend many pleasant and happy years at the beautiful home he purchased and with the many friends he made in patriotic and other circles.

He was an honorary member of the Upland Rotary club and greatly enjoyed the club programs and fellowship of the members when able to attend. A few years ago he represented the local club as delegate at the convention of Rotary International when he made his last trip to his native country of Austria, his home having been in that part which is now known as Czechoslovakia.

Recognition of his judgment in business matters was shown by the fact that he was a member of the board of directors and a vice president of the First National bank of Upland.

The new business people have come here from New York. The Collier brothers do not have any definite plans for the immediate future other than brief vacations.

Dr. Thompson made frequent visits to his office here, but spent the greater part of the time with Mrs. Thompson at the beach and they enjoyed a delightful vacation. Their son Robert remained for a few days of deep sea fishing, but will join his parents here later. He will enter Stanford university on Sept. 23.

Few of New Books At Local Library Are Briefly Reviewed

The list of books presented for September by the library is quite varied. It will be noted that there are several biographies—Kipling's "Something of Myself," and those of Maximilian, Paderewski, Sir William Howe, Commander-in-Chief of the British Army in the Revolutionary war, and who allowed Washington to escape at Brooklyn; E. W. Scripps of newspaper fame, who was a mass of contraditions except in two respects: intelligence and courage. He warned Gilson Gardner, confidential assistant and a Washington correspondent, to include in this biography not only his virtues but his faults. "E. W.," as he was called, had a hand in making history in San Diego and La Jolla and other California towns, notably in the newspaper business. Confessions of G. Stanley Hall, the psychologist, is decidedly interesting.

"So This Is Jazz!" gives a brief history from the blooey blues to the king of jazz, the actions and reactions to jazz. An authoritative and comprehensive study of the art of silhouette in America is the "Shade of Our Ancestors." It is well illustrated.

Irving Brant's "Storm Over the Constitution" will be used by W. W. Mather's course of study this coming winter at Chaffey.

An unusually good line of fiction may be noted. "And so—Victoria" is probably outstanding and will be reviewed by Mrs. Ruth N. West next Friday night. Mysteries, romance, murder, northern, western, historical—all kinds and conditions of fiction are on the list. "Children of Strangers," a Southern story, has received considerable publicity.

Operator of Livery Stable Here Years Ago, Death Victim

Uplanders who were patrons of this city's livery stable more than 20 years ago will remember the name of Arthur V. Neff. Mr. Neff died at his home in Los Angeles Sunday and funeral services were held in Pomona this morning. Walter Allen, a close neighbor in business, was one of the pall bearers. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harris were other Uplanders at the funeral.

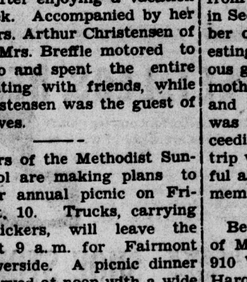

Mr. Neff left Upland in about 1915 after having prospered during the era of the livery stable. The building now occupied by the Upland Feed and Fuel Co. was originally erected for the livery stable business and it was in that location he served his patrons.

Mr. Neff is survived by his widow, a daughter, both of Los Angeles, and a son, who is in the Philippine Islands. He was 57 years of age, being a young man when he conducted the business in Upland.

Tickets to Theatre Given Children as Prizes by Library

A delightful treat is in store for approximately 25 children of Upland Saturday afternoon when they will be guests of the Upland public library at the matinee performance at the Upland theatre of Kipling's "Captains Courageous." These boys and girls are members of the Stratosphere Reading club held at the Sarah Temple junior library this summer, and have successfully completed the requirements in order to win a free ticket to the theatre. Some 12 or 15 boys and girls have done extra reading, and will win another prize in addition to the theatre ticket. These awards will be presented at the library Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock sharp, the time set for the children to meet before going together to the show.

The contest closes Wednesday, Sept. 1, and all members of the club are urged to complete their reports by then if they have not already done so. The contest was designed primarily to foster the reading of better books and Miss Elizabeth Wright, children's librarian, feels well satisfied with the children's response and progress this summer.

Miss Wright will personally conduct the group to the theatre, where a block of seats will be reserved for them.
